1. PURPOSE AND RATIONALE

This policy is intended to establish clear procedures for implementing and monitoring suspensions and to outline other strategies for dealing with serious mis-behaviour at Wyvern College. It is also intended to provide a fair, legal and consistent approach to behavioural expectations and suspensions for trustees, the Headteacher, staff, students and parents. It includes examples of strategies that may be used to support students who are exhibiting poor behaviour in an effort to prevent suspensions, the considerations that are taken into account prior to giving a suspension and the steps that the college takes when issuing a suspension.

2. PRINCIPLES AND CONTENT

i. Strategies to prevent a suspension

Staff and students at Wyvern College believe in the right to disruption-free learning, every lesson, every day. This can be seen in the core principles of the PRiDe expectations. The college works with parents and students to promote the PRiDe expectations and to prevent poor behaviour. Out of lessons, the RESPECT expectations make clear to students how they should behave in order to stay safe and keep others safe. Staff have developed a range of strategies that are used to deal with poor behaviour and to support students with the aim of preventing suspensions. These strategies may include:

- a) Telephone call or letter to parents;
- b) Meeting with parents;

WYVERN INCLUSION AND EXCLUSION POLICY

- c) Placing the student on PRIDe report to monitor behaviour;
- d) Use of departmental and SLT detention system;
- e) Change of teaching set or class;
- f) Support from the SEND department;
- g) Use of the 'On-Call' team;
- h) Peer mentoring from the Peer Supporters or Prefects;
- i) Use of the Restorative Behaviour Day;
- j) Personalised timetable at Key Stage 4 for example attendance at another form of alternative provision such as offsite provision or a work placement;
- k) Referral to the Eastleigh Early Help Hub;
- l) Referral to outside agencies for additional support;
- m) Referral to the college's Wellbeing Advisor to address the root causes of behaviour;
- n) Removal of privileges for example freedom of movement at break as a precautionary, preventative measure;
- o) Placing student in the Internal Exclusion Room for an extended day;
- p) Inclusion programme of individual behaviour support plans and regular meetings with teachers of the student;
- q) Holding a multi-agency planning meeting for example a TAF ('team around the family');
- r) Organising a managed move to a partner school in the Eastleigh & Winchester consortium;
- s) Organising a period of 'respite' at a partner school in the Eastleigh & Winchester consortium.

Suspension is a serious sanction which is used proportionally, in response to serious breaches of the PRIDe and RESPECT rules, in line with the National Standard List of Reasons for Suspensions (outlined below)

It is also used when a student has disregarded all other punishments.

ii. Factors to be considered prior to issuing a suspension:

When considering whether to suspend a student, the college will take into account the following:

- a) The weight of evidence relating to the offending behaviour;
- b) The student's previous behaviour record at college;
- c) Whether the behaviour is part of a wider pattern of behaviour
- d) Whether the behaviour was planned and premeditated.
- e) The degree to which any victims of the behaviour were affected by it
- f) Whether the behaviour was motivated by prejudice or discrimination against a protected characteristic.
- g) Any particular circumstances unique to the student which might sensibly be taken into account in connection with the behaviour of the student;
- h) The extent to which parents, peers or other pressures, may have contributed to the behaviour;
- i) The degree of severity of the behaviour, the frequency of its occurrence, and the likelihood of its reoccurrence;
- j) Whether or not the behaviour will have an impact on the Health & safety of staff and students;
- k) Whether or not the behaviour occurred on the college premises or when the student was
 - a. otherwise in the charge of college staff;
- l) The degree to which the behaviour was a violation of one or more rules contained in the college's Behaviour and Discipline policy or related documents;
- m) Whether the incident was perpetrated by the student on his or her own or as part of a
 - a. group;
- n) Whether consideration has been given to seeking the support of other agencies;
- o) Whether the behaviour might be an emerging sign of behavioural and emotional difficulties giving rise to special educational needs. Particular consideration should be given to students who have an Education & Health Care Plan;
- p) Equal opportunities, whether there are any equal opportunities issues such as race, disability or religion which need to be taken into account;
- q) Whether the student is in care, is a carer him/herself, pregnant or otherwise at risk;
- r) If behaviour constitutes a crime, then suspension will be used.

Failure to complete homework, poor academic performance, lateness or truancy and failure to adhere to the college's uniform policy will not be used as reasons for a suspension. These may, however, contribute to a suspension for persistent disruptive behaviour.

iii. The use of a suspension

At Wyvern College, a suspension will be considered after full consideration of the above factors. A student will be suspended if their behaviour breaches the college's Behaviour and Discipline policy (Policy Number 4), or allowing them to remain in college would be seriously detrimental to the student or others in the college, or where a student's actions poses a serious risk to the health and safety of the student or others in the college.

The authority to suspend students lies solely with the Headteacher. To ensure that a decision to suspend is rational and reasonable, the decision to suspend is not managed just by the head teacher but involves others to ensure appropriate checks and balances in the decision making process. The pastoral leader and their senior leader line manager request a suspension when they believe this sanction is warranted. They then present the evidence of this to the head teacher who makes the decision on the basis of the evidence.

Like all sanctions, suspension serves five main purposes:

- 1) Suspension is used to uphold important rules. If students who break very serious rules do not get serious sanctions, then other students would break the rules. The seriousness of the sanctions reflects the seriousness of the rules that get broken. So, suspension is used when students break rules affecting the safety, wellbeing and dignity of other students and staff.
- 2) Suspension is used respond to the harm done to the victims of bad behaviour. They will be affected by the behaviour in some way – either feeling unsafe or disrespected in some way. Because these people have suffered as a result of poor behaviour they are entitled to see that actions have been taken so they know justice has been done.
- 3) Suspension is used as a deterrent – to put off other students from breaking the rules. Because other students want to avoid having serious sanctions like suspension, they will obey the rules.
- 4) Suspension provides respite – a break for everyone who has suffered as a result of the poor behaviour.
- 5) Suspension gives a clear signal to a student that, by not being in college for a few days, there is a danger that they will end up not being in college at all. In other words, suspension reminds students that they could end up being expelled unless they change their behaviour.

The college recognises that students are most likely to change their behaviour when sanctions are complemented with reflection and restoration. Therefore, students who are suspended will be set work which requires them to learn more about the type of behaviour they have exhibited, to understand the impact it has, to consider why what they did was wrong and to put this right by writing detailed letters of apology to those affected by it.

iv. Suspensions

These are limited to a total of 45 days in any one academic year for an individual student, not in any one particular establishment, so if a student moves schools part way through the year, the receiving school should ensure that accurate information is received in relation to previous suspensions.

Suspensions are split into three categories: suspensions of 5 days and under, suspensions of between 6 and 15 days, suspensions of 16 days and over.

Schools are responsible for the setting and marking of work during the first 5 school days of a suspension. During this period, parents are responsible for ensuring that the student is not present in a public place during normal school hours without reasonable justification. Failure to complete work, however, does not constitute a reason for refusing to allow the pupil to return to school. The college is required to arrange a readmission interview following suspensions but the suspension cannot be extended if such an interview cannot be arranged in time or the parents do not attend.

For students who are suspended for more than 5 days, the college must make arrangements to provide full-time education provision from the 6th day, either off site or in a shared provision. The college works in partnership with other schools in the Eastleigh & Winchester consortium to provide this provision on a reciprocal basis. The arrangements for 6th day provision are required to be reported to the Local Authority on each occasion that we are required to implement it.

v. Expulsion

Expulsion will be considered in response to extremely serious breaches of the college's discipline policy and where allowing the student to remain in college would be seriously detrimental to the education or welfare of the student or other students in the college. Examples may include:

- Serious actual or threatened violence against another student or member of staff;
- Sexual abuse or assault against another student or member of staff;
- Carrying an offensive weapon;
- Persistent and defiant mis-behaviour including bullying or continual harassment;
- Possession, use or supply of illegal and other unauthorised drugs or substances within the college boundaries or on college transport, or during a college visit.

In most cases, a range of other support strategies will have been in place for a period of time before permanent exclusion is considered.

The Local Authority is responsible for arranging suitable full-time education provision from Day 6 of an expulsion and provides guidance to the college on fulfilling the legal and administration requirements in relation to a permanent exclusion.

vi. Procedures for suspensions and expulsions

Recommendation for a suspension

- a) The Pastoral Leader must speak to parents personally by phone to advise them that a suspension is being considered.
- b) The Pastoral Leader should complete a Suspension Recommendation Form and submit it to their SLT Line Manager for approval.
- c) The Pastoral Leader should ensure that statements from the student and other people involved in the incident are attached to the Suspension Recommendation Form. A copy of the student's behaviour log and attendance should also be included. Suspensions cannot be processed if any relevant paperwork is missing. It is important that statements contain as much detail as possible.
- d) Reference should be made to the National Standard List of reasons for suspension.

Suspensions up to five days

- a) For all suspensions, the SLT Line Manager should ensure that the student has had an opportunity to express his/her views and that the paperwork has been correctly completed by the Pastoral Leader.
- b) The authority to suspend students lies solely with the Headteacher, who will review each request.
- c) For all suspensions, the SLT Line Manager will personally contact the parents by phone to explain the decision to suspend the student, to inform them of the dates of the suspension, to arrange re-admission details and to outline the work to be done by the student. This contact should be made within 24 hours of the decision to suspend being taken.
- d) If the misbehaviour is so serious that it warrants the student being suspended part way through the day, he/she should not be sent home to an empty house unless parents give verbal consent. If parents cannot be contacted, the student should be withdrawn from lessons and placed in the Internal Exclusion Room until contact can be made with them.
- e) Students should be given work to complete for each day of their suspension.
- f) The completed Suspension Recommendation Form should be passed to the Attendance Officer who produces the letter containing the suspension details, the re-admission time and the work to be completed.
- g) By law, it is the parents' responsibility to ensure that their child is supervised whilst suspended.

Return from suspension

- a) Following a suspension, the student and parents should attend a readmission meeting with the SLT Line Manager and Pastoral Leader. Every attempt should be made to do this before the student is due to return to college.
- b) Students are required to have completed their reflection work on their return to college, following a suspension.
- c) On return to college, the student should be placed on PRIDE report to the SLT Line Manager and the Pastoral Leader should offer other support where appropriate.
- d) In exceptional circumstances, the college may agree a part-time return following a suspension for an agreed length of time, as part of a re-integration programme and this would be agreed by the Headteacher.

vii. Additional information

If a student has suspensions totaling more than 15 days, including 15.5 days, within a term or 45 days within a year, then a Trustees' Review Meeting will be called, where the Trustees' student disciplinary committee meet to discuss the case. Such meetings are organised in conjunction with the Clerk to the Trustees and the Local Authority provides support to the college in respect of this. Parents/carers can request that a meeting be held via the use of remote access such as Zoom or TEAMS. In an emergency situation such as college closure due to reasons such as a flood or infectious illness, then meetings can also be held remotely. The decision to hold a meeting remotely can only be made if all the participants have access to the technology which will allow them to hear, speak, see, be seen, and thereby participate fully. Even if the meeting is held in person, any relevant social workers and virtual school heads can join it remotely.

If a Trustees' Review Meeting is held, the relevant Deputy Pastoral Leader will need to produce paperwork for the review from the student's file. The contents of the paperwork will be provided by the local authority, but as a guide the information required would include: all previous suspensions and supporting statements, behaviour log, any behaviour support plan or pastoral levels of intervention document, SEND information, evidence of involvement of other agencies, evidence of other intervention strategies, attendance data and the last two college reports.

At the point of formal written notification, the College should be more than satisfied that the suspension decision is both appropriate and unavoidable, and has been authorised by the Headteacher. However, if parents do not accept the decision and feel that there are grounds for appeal, the notification letter will provide them with details of how to contact the Clerk of Trustees in order to register their objection to the decision.

The Trustees do not have the power to direct a reinstatement, but it will consider the parental representations and may decide to place a copy of its findings on the student's official school record. The formal notification letter will also inform parents of their legal rights, e.g. with respect to the Equality Act 2010, and provide them with contact details for further help and advice from external agencies.

In the event of a student being subject to criminal proceedings and a suspension in relation to a particular incident, the Headteacher will decide whether a suspension would be appropriate under the circumstances. Minor theft will be dealt with by the college but subsequent occurrences would be reported to the police. Any activities involving illegal drugs or any offence which would be likely to result in a criminal prosecution will be reported to the police.

viii. Monitoring of suspensions

The termly Headteacher's report to the Trustees will provide details on the number and type of suspensions given, together with comment on particular behaviour issues that Trustees need to be aware of. The Safeguarding, Curriculum & Support Committee will receive a termly report regarding suspension data from the Pastoral Deputy Headteacher.

3. RESPONSIBILITY FOR IMPLEMENTATION

The Trustees of Wyvern College have a duty, within its general role of supporting the Headteacher and staff, to maintain standards of discipline and ensure fairness to students and parents with regard to strategies for serious mis-behaviour, suspensions and permanent exclusions, parents' representations and monitoring of suspensions.

i. ACCOUNTABILITY

The Trustees are responsible for approving this policy.

The Safeguarding, Curriculum & Pastoral Committee is responsible for ensuring this policy is monitored effectively.
